BAHTIYAR
DAVIDOFF

In 2016, Bahtiyar Davidoff started a blogging business writing about travel, business, and personal development. After a year, his blog was already generating thousands of dollars in passive income. Blogging didn't make him filthy rich, however, it taught him web development, SEO (Search Engine Optimization), marketing, brand building, PR (Public Relations), and loads of other powerful digital skills. He has read more than 400 books on business, marketing, and brand building.

In July, 2017, Bahtiyar's friend Joseph who is an owner of a five star hotel in Miami complained to Davidoff that his hotel business has almost gone bankrupt. Bahtiyar Davidoff analyzed all the data, information and the marketing strategy of the friend's hotel.

After a very deep and meticulous analysis of the hotel's performance, Bahtiyar Davidoff came out with a marketing strategy that not only saved Joseph's hotel from bankruptcy, but also increased his total income by 1200%.

This was the turning point in Bahtiyar's career. He realized that apart from earning big money online himself, he can also help other businesses and companies improve their performance and make more profits. Since that day, Bahtiyar concentrated at helping businesses around the world grow and go beyond their perceived potentials.

He travels around the world helping companies improve their websites, marketing, and brand building.
